DETAILED ACTION

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to claim 9, "said sample needles" lack antecedent basis.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Boyd.

Boyd teaches (Figure 6) an apparatus to align a sample container mouth with a sample needle of a device, including: sleeve 160, needle attachment means 80, movable guide means 220 slidably attached within the sleeve and capable of securely accepting the container.

The written specification of Boyd does not state that the guide 220 accepts ("accepting said sample container mouth" of line 7 of Applicant's claim 10) the container mouth.

As to claim 10, the large distance between the top of the guide and slot 235 indicates that the top of the guide is very close to the top of the sleeve 160, indicative that any container within the guide has its mouth within the guide, resulting in the guide accepting the mouth. In the alternative, it would have been obvious to utilize a container shorter than that illustrated in Figure 4 because small sample containers allow for a greater ability for subsequent storage. A smaller (i.e. shorter) container in Figure 4 would result in the mouth being within the guide 174, and thus being within the guide 220.
